

Arianna Di Luzio

Head of Data Competence Center in Digital Strategy and Governance in Enel since march 2019. Previously I was responsible for global trading data competence center. I've always considered Business and Technology closely linked. During my experiences I've had the opportunity to work in several projects where Technology has been a fundamental driver to obtain new benefits, always involved in Energy and Data. My professional background embraces Energy management business and technology aspects mainly across Big Data.
